Then Jesus said unto them, verily, verily I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

For the bread of God is He which cometh down from heaven and giveth life unto the world. Then said they unto Him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

W.M.S. Meeting

The Irma branch of the WMS held its June meeting at the home of Mrs. C. L. Currie on Monday evening with the president Mrs. H. Riley in the chair. Good reports were given by the secretary Mrs. McRoberts and the treasurer Mrs. C. Coffin.

Mrs. H. W. Inglis led the devotional period. The study feast with our senior citizens and ways and means to make their lives more profitable and pleasant. Those taking part in this were Mesdames McRoberts, Hutchinson, Jack, Currie, Inglis and Coffin.

One of the highlights of the meeting was a letter received from Korea containing snapshots of the children at Kolo orphanage. They were shown with boxes of pabulum and other good things sent by the Irma WMS. The letter told of the great need and also the great appreciation of any effort we can make to help in this way.

Forage Field Day—Metakow

On July 10, at the Metakow farm, one mile east of Metakow, the Dominion Experimental Farm Service and the Alberta Department of Agriculture are jointly sponsoring a Forage Crop Field Day. The program will start at 11 a.m. and there will be a booth on the grounds for lunch. In the afternoon there will be demonstrations of different ways to handle forage crops. Different types of forage harvesters will be demonstrated showing how both silage and dry feed can be put up. There will be a demonstration of silage filling, showing how this is properly done. Different types of balers, bale loaders, conveyors, forage wagons, etc. will be demonstrated at work.

The purpose of this day is to let farmers see the different types of machines in operation together with engineers on hand to answer questions regarding them. Every one is welcome. Remember the date, July 10, starting at 11 a.m. with a tour of the plots, then the demonstrations.

Rat Control

Rats are still coming into Alberta from Saskatchewan. It is not hard to eliminate these rats and prevent them from becoming firmly established here but it does require the co-operation of everyone in the eastern part of Alberta. Any sign or suspicion of rats should be reported to your Rat Control Officer. He will give you poison and advice on controlling these pests and check your premises to see if it is rats. Everyone should keep their yards and building site neat and tidy so as not to provide harborage for these pests.

Glen-Coa Gleanings

Many Sharon members motored to Camrose last week-end to take in the E.L.C. District Convention held in that city from June 20 to 23 inclusive. There was a very large attendance and many fine speakers.

The Rev. Curtis Satre made a flying visit here with his relatives just before the convention began and again on Saturday.

This has been a difficult week for students with their various examinations, but a happy one, too, with holiday anticipations soon to be realized.

Pastor Knudson will bring his farewell message to Sharon next Sunday evening at 8 p.m. Then he and his family will be leaving for Claresholm to assume a pastorate there. The best wishes will all go with Pastor Knudson and family as they enter upon a new field of service.

Sharon WMF will meet at the home of Mrs. B. Gubrina on Wednesday, July 3. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. Rasook and Mrs. Ruste.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors and the local fire brigade in their prompt and efficient action in extinguishing the grass fire on our property. Also thanks to Mr. Albert Glasgow for phoning in the alarm.

SOLDIER APPRENTICES—Two of the soldier apprentices after they were welcomed at Sherwood. Left to right are Gnr. Peter Brown, Fort Saskatchewan, Alta., and Gnr. Chris Mathews, Medicine Hat, Alta.

Sherwood, North Dakota—Canadian soldier apprentices were credited by Mayor Russell Stevens with making this community's 20th annual Memorial Day service a marked success.

And the contingent from Camp Shilo, Man., was told by the American Legion commander: "We admire you and only wish that we were young again and able to carry out in our country the service which you are performing for Canada."

Also taking part in the service here were members of six Canadian Legion Branches and veterans from the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and North Dakota border areas. The 16 and 17-year-old soldiers from the Royal Canadian School of Artillery formed a rifle troop and a 24-piece military band.

Assembling at the U.S.-Canadian border, the young soldiers and uniformed veterans of the U.S. armed forces lined the route while national flags and Legion colors were trooped down the ranks. About 1,200 spectators watched the ceremony at this town of 394 population located 10 miles south of Gainsborough, Sask.

Four soldier apprentices stood guard with arms reversed at the memorial to the Unknown Soldier for the wreath-laying ceremony following a remembrance service. Jack Burton, retired customs officer and member of the Carleton Place, Ont., Legion Branch, placed the wreath. Major Frank Michie of Kingston, Ont., was in command

JUNE 16, 1957

Good morning, neighbors! Ladies Clubs can be relied upon to take advantage of every possible method of gaining their objective. For example, Carleton Place Eye Witness, Man., published this announcement the week before Election Day: The Rummage Round-Up sponsored by the Ladies Curling Club has been postponed until June 29. By that time three discarded Candidates may be available.

Available at the right time was this eight-year-old lad given a well-deserved write-up in the Birch Hills Gazette, Sask. It was last summer that Lorne Gjesdal, eight-year-old son of Stein Gjesdal of Weldon and the late Mrs. Molly Gjesdal, waded into deep water up to his chin, to pull out six-year-old Ronnie Chambers. Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chambers, also of Weldon. The rescue escaped the news columns until recently, when word was received of a parchment certificate being presented to Lorne by the Royal Canadian Humane Society for his bravery.

Speaking of small boys and girls, we learn from the Watrous Manitou, Sask., that Frank Koehler, prominent local businessman, who passed his 82nd milestone the other week, has for many years remembered his young friends on the occasion of his birthday anniversary. So, on his birthday this year—Mr. Koehler enjoyed distributing 325 dixie cups to the boys and girls.

Talking of boys and girls, years ago, the Lacombe Globe, Alberta, tells of this incident: "Don't you recognize me? You used to put me in corners when I didn't behave in the classroom," stated a caller at the W. H. Koehler home in Lacombe recently. He was Victor Rowley of Victoria, B.C., who was a student of Mr. Koehler's at a school in Michigan back in the 1890's. Mrs. Koehler was his first teacher, so needless to say, she didn't recognize him.

Coming back to children of today—they are not going to like this editorial in the Indian Head News, Sask., which states: "Those people who insist that the human race should continue to help some highly vocal minority to help outlaw firecrackers completely. At present the law forbids the sale of these sinister little bombs to the very young; but as the very young have nothing to do all day long except to think up ways of getting around adults, they come up with new ideas. They come up with firecrackers. Firecracker is large enough can maim, blind and do fire to property; they should be abolished."

Another Saskatchewan paper, the Wakaw Recorder, carries this paid official announcement: The undersigned hereby orders all retail or wholesale outlets in the town of Wakaw to refrain from selling "firecrackers" of any description to any person at any time—signed E. R. Moker, Local Fire Chief.

Fire was the reason for this news item in the Nanton News, Alta. A farmer who lives in the Nanton district had been burning stubble one afternoon last week. When nightfall came, although he was sure that the fire was out, he was a little uneasy about it all when he finally went to bed. About two o'clock in the morning his phone rang, and his worried farmer stumbled over chairs, sheets and slippery rugs in his rush to answer, expecting the worst. On answering, he found the other end of the line to be a neighbor. "Hi," said the early morning caller. "I was driving by your burnt stubble and stopped to check it. The fire's out and everything is okay." Now, was that thoughtful, comments the reporter, at 2:30 in the morning.

A very timely thought is expressed in a little verse penned by Grace Wright of Canmore, Alta., and published in the Banff Craig and Canyon; entitled "A Gift." It reads:

When we have a lovely day, I do wish people would not say: "Mark my words we'll pay for this!" In tones of gloomy emphasis.

Let us take it as a present; Or payment for the bad days spent; Enjoy the day until it's ended, Thank God for one so splendid.

A gift is offered to a sneak-thief, in this announcement in the Inistiat Province, Alta.: Would the person seen removing my wallet from my pocket in the beller room at the swimming pool, please keep the money, but return the papers by mail to William Grant.

Still on the gift topic, the Melfort Journal, Sask., notes that Earl Armstrong of the Central Park district was pleasantly surprised on Friday morning when his favorite pet cow gave birth to a heifer calf. On Sunday, he heard the hungry cry of another calf in a nearby bush, and upon investigation learned that a twin brother calf had been overlooked on Friday.

But cows can be quite a nuisance, according to the High River Times, Alta., which states: A cow that must be a descendant of Mrs. O'Leary's cow which caused the Chicago fire, was responsible for a five car vehicle collision north of High River Saturday evening. One car stopped to permit the placid bovine to cross the highway. The result was a collision of five vehicles, all travelling in the same direction, and hitting each other from the rear. In the resulting excitement the cow quietly vanished from the scene.

Very much on the scene of Life are these good neighbors, celebrating noteworthy birthday anniversaries. Mrs. E. G. Wadsworth of 301 Riding Mountain, Man., 91; Mrs. E. Major of Russell, Man., 91 tomorrow; Mrs. J. W. Morphy formerly of Watrous, Sask., now living in Saskatoon, 91; Mrs. Perry Fall, Oak Lake, Man., also 91; Mrs. William Trevelyan of Burdette, Man., 92; Mrs. R. Williams of North Battleford, 94; William Harkness of the Head Valley, Sask., 94; D. Harding of Strathclair, Man., 97; and Charles Simpson formerly of Pilot Mound, Man., now living in Winnipeg, also 97.

These oldtimers no doubt will remember the Bank referred to by the Northern News, Sask., in its check-up when an old home was torn down recently on the Duck Lake Indian Reserve, the working men found in one wall of the house a cheque of the Bank of British North America, dated Dec. 31, 1900, and made out to Joe Seese, a cheque who had endorsed the cheque. "How the cheque had been lodged in the wall of the old house will probably never be explained," comments the reporter. An amusing explanation for a doctor's absence is told in this little story in the Oak Lake News, Manitoba: The small son of a doctor answered the phone, and told the caller that his father was not home. "Do you know when he will be in?" he was asked. "No, I don't," said the boy. "He went out on an eternity case."

Referring back to our mention of cows being a nuisance sometimes—the same thing goes for wild ducks, which—according to the Indian Head News, Sask., now loom as a major hazard on No. 1 highway past Indian Head. A few days ago, a local garage had a car in with a demolished windshield, struck by a low-flying duck. Latest casualty, was Larry Wilson of The News staff. His car had a huge gaping hole torn in the windshield. The impact threw feathers into the car but no duck in the stewpot. It sailed over the top. Truckers say they are scared these days—to many ducks.

Not too many times do you read a news item like this one in the Elmwood Herald, Man. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Copeland have a rare and proud distinction of having three sons graduate this spring. Murray, the eldest son, graduated from Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.; Campbell, the younger brother, graduated from St. Jean Baptiste College at St. Jean, Que., and Miles received his degree in engineering from the University of Manitoba.

Congratulations to you three young men—and congratulations also to you—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibson of Wainwright, Alta., on your 60th wedding anniversary.

Speaking of a marriage-to-be, the Tisdale Recorder, Sask., tells us that 15 ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. A. Bjornald in the Chesham district, to honor Miss Ada Jones with a bridal shower. The highlight of the evening was when Norman Bjornald appeared in the room full of giggling ladies with a pall to collect the eggs! We're not sure, says the reporter, whether Mr. Bjornald figured that one out for himself, but Walt Field was in the kitchen so anything could have been cooked-up there.

Good morning, neighbors, and keep smiling. 3252

Clean-up Week Big Improvement

The town shows marked improvement in appearance as a result of the Clean-up Week authorized by the town council. Householders for the most part were co-operative removing the unburnable debris of yard to the back alleys. This accumulation was promptly picked up by town trucks and carried to the dump grounds. There have been many favorable comments on the courtesy and interest of town employers in furthering the good work. As a result, even the alleys present a clean, cared for appearance. A great amount of time is being spent on beautifying properties, and the early spring is bringing reward in a showing of flowers well in advance of the usual time.

One of five trouble spots on the streets has always been the stretch from the Memorial Centre round the curve to the school. Quite an amount of work has been in progress to get better drainage on this section, and workmen have been trenching the street and filling with coarse gravel.—The Times, High River, Alta.—May 30, 1957.

Churchill excursion

leaflet available

A new leaflet, publishing the 1957 Churchill excursion, has been produced by the Department of Travel and Information for the Department of Co-operation, and is being distributed to interested parties throughout the province.

"The 1957 excursion has a number of new facets, all described in the leaflet," said W. J. Hansen, director of Trade Services for the Department of Co-operation, who will also be tour conductor. The fares have been kept below one hundred dollars and a number of new side trips have been arranged. "One of the most interesting of these is a tour of the military establishment at Fort Churchill and a display of the arctic military clothing and equipment being developed in the area."

The tour leaves Regina on the morning of August 1 and arrives back in Regina on the afternoon of August 5. Further information may be obtained from the Trade and Business Information Service of the Department of Co-operation or from any GTR agent.

More tax payments by CPR to municipalities

Montreal, June 15.—Saskatchewan, including the City of Estevan will receive further back taxes and penalties from the Canadian Pacific Railway company amounting to $762,000, by the end of June. This amount, with $924,925, paid last December, will total $1,686,925.—The Mercury, Estevan, Sask.—May 23, 1957.

Let rise until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Bake each loaf with a little cold water. Bake in a hot oven, 450°, 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate, 350°, and continue to bake until loaves sound hollow when tapped with knuckles—20 to 25 minutes longer. Yield—2 loaves.

Local News

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Jones on June 26 at the Viking hospital, a son, 7 lbs.

We have had some scattered showers since last week but there seems to have been rather too much "acet" to the scattering. Most districts are still much in need of a good old fashioned three day's rain.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. John Joseph Stapleton and Miss Wilda Irene Meyer whose marriage takes place on Saturday, June 28.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Milne who celebrate their silver wedding anniversary this week.

We are sorry to learn that for the third time this spring there has been hail in the district north-east of town which was so badly hit last year. However, this hail has not been so severe and a good quantity of moisture has come with it.
